Fresh Voices 2010, left to right: Victoria Chen, Elizabeth Nutt, Kerrylee Pelkey, Andrew Bryce, Michael Stankiewicz, Megan Brookman.

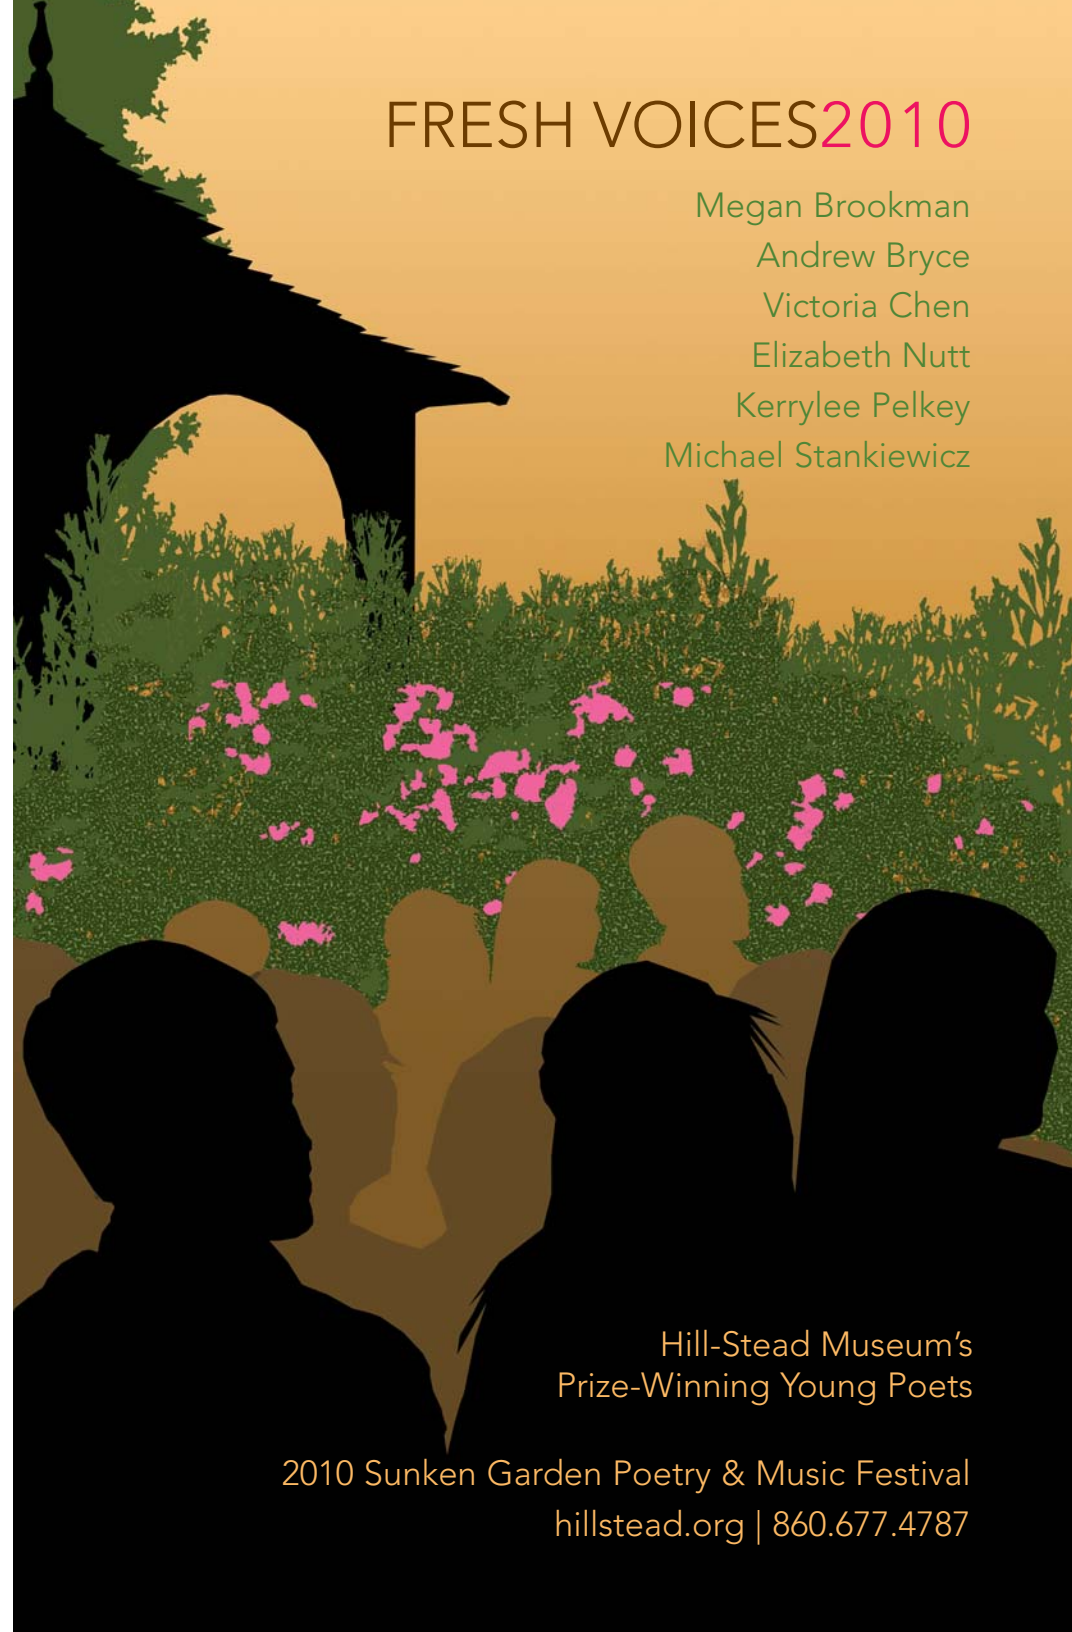

The Fresh Voices competition, a program of Hill-Stead Museum, is an education-through-the arts opportunity for Connecticut high school poets. The six winners in 2010 represent some of the best writing being produced in Connecticut high schools today. Their experience with the Fresh Voices competition culminates with a feature reading in Hill-Stead's nationally acclaimed Sunken Garden Poetry & Music Festival. Proceeds from the sale of this chapbook help benefit the program.
